§07 · MINDSET

Knowing it isn't the same as saying it.

§07 — THE GAP — FIG. 07.2

07.2

In your head, every answer is complete.

Out loud, you hear the gaps: the step you skip, the figure you're not sure of, the “why” you can't quite explain. Better to find them in your cabin than in front of the examiner.

§07 — THREE HABITS — FIG. 07.3

07.3

Practise the saying.

01 Say it out loud. If you can't say it, you don't have it yet.

02 Keep it to ninety seconds, then ask yourself “why?”

03 Record yourself once a week. Uncomfortable, and useful.

§07 — ON NERVES — FIG. 07.4

07.4

Nerves don't mean you're unprepared.

They mean it matters. Practice doesn't make them disappear. It gives them something solid to hold on to.

§07 — NEXT STEP — WAITLIST OPEN

Practise the saying.

That's what Oral Room is for. Join the waitlist.
